

DAY SEVEN

trial kit

Looking for something to set you apart from competitors?

Responsibly designed tailor made functional uniforms, helping my friends in contemporary hospitality achieve lasting impressions

How? Start by ordering a uniform trial kit for the team to test-wear today

1. Select styles

Head to our online shop then choose any styles you would like to try from our showcase collection.

2. Add to cart

Add chosen styles to your cart, here you will need to select the '12 week trial option' in checkout. We suggest test wearing a couple of styles or otherwise you can take advantage of our hospitality experienced stylist to help you.

3. Wear

Delivery has arrived, get straight into it and test our uniforms for yourself. Don't forget to style different ways, alternate shoes etc get your teams thoughts and feelings, bend, squat, twist, twerk, wash, wear, wash repeat by following our easy enviro-care wash instructions.

We notify you when your trial is nearly up. But if you were like our other clients and decide sooner that you love the comfort and practicality of our work-wears you can simply keep your uniform then head online to place an order for your team. If you were unsure, follow the returns instructions in your kit and once returns are received you will be issued with your store credit. For something a little more unique for your company get in touch and we can design an entirely new uniform exclusive to your team that meets your needs and brief.

4. Return

What's in the trial kit?

Selected Styles + Catalogue

Your chosen uniforms ready to wear. All made to order in Melbourne, Australia and delivered to you in compostable packaging and recycled materials. Included is an ordering catalogue to keep handy for your future orders whether for onboarding staff or opening a new establishment.

Fabric + Colour Swatches

Of course, you need to feel and see for your self the real colour that's why we encourage a trial wear. We include our fabric swatches of our collection colour range and suggest you use them like you would a paint swatch with your decor and decision making. More colours available with custom design or tailoring services.

Size guide + Measure Tape

You'll find a very handy go-to size guide stick-on-the-fridge magnet, so you won't lose it when looking for a quick reference when hiring new staff. A tape measure also to give your staff the autonomy to take a moment and pick a size they will feel comfortable and confident in.

Prepaid Return + Wash Guide

We know your time is precious so we pack a prepaid compostable satchel for you to put your washed trial uniforms straight in the post box if you decide to send them back. An email/text when your 12 week test-wear period is coming to an end so you have enough time for the uniforms to be returned washed follow our simple wash and return guide.
